

Webelos Leader Outdoor Training (Day)

Saturday, June 8, 2002

This day-long training event has been resurrected for Webelos leaders and others wanting to get the most out of their Webelos program. The course provides immediately useable information you can take to the woods. The training is lively, hands-on, exciting and filled with fun things to help you lead your Webelos Den. Learn about what other Webelos leaders are doing with their Dens. Activities include knots, knives and woods tools, tents, site selection, bedding, camp fires, propane stoves and cooking and work on all outdoor activity awards. Participants will prepare their evening meal and should bring a sack lunch and a drink for the noon meal.

The training also provides the outdoor experience credit needed for the Webelos Leader Training Award. (Note: This training does not satisfy the requirements for BALOO training to lead a Pack Overnighter.)
